The second term English test

Class : Name : / 20

My name is Roald Dahl, and I am a British writer best known for my imaginative stories for children. I was born on 13 September 1916 in Llandaff, Wales.

When I was a child, I had a strong imagination and many important childhood memories that later inspired my stories. School was sometimes difficult for me, but I had some favourite teachers who were kind and encouraged creativity. These teachers helped me develop a love for stories and writing and they helped me believe in the power of imagination. When I grew up, I became a famous writer and wrote well-known books such as Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, Matilda and James and the Giant Peach. People often describe me as imaginative, creative, humorous, and sometimes rebellious.

My childhood experiences and personality shaped my writing and helped me create magical stories that are loved by children all over the world.
